

Child Labor Advertisement Analysis

1. What organization is this an advertisement for?
2. How many children does it say are working in poor conditions at the time this advertisement was written?
3. What is this advertisement trying to persuade you to do or think?
4. What evidence do you see in the advertisement to support their argument?
5. What year was this advertisement created?
6. Why do you think the words “you” and “your” are italicized in the last paragraph of the advertisement?

Child Labor Advertisement Analysis

1. What organization is this an advertisement for?
2. How many children does it say are working in poor conditions at the time this advertisement was written?
3. What is this advertisement trying to persuade you to do or think?
4. What evidence do you see in the advertisement to support their argument?
5. What year was this advertisement created?
6. Why do you think the words “you” and “your” are italicized in the last paragraph of the advertisement?